Everybody Skates but Father

Everybody skates but father,
He stands around all day,
Nursing a bunch of sore spots
Made in the same old way.
Mother, sister and brother,
Skatin' as fast as they can.
Everybody's crazy at our house,
'Cept my old man.

Father went to the skatin' rink,
Tied on a bunch of wheels,
Started to do a two-step
And a few Virginia reels;
Suddenly something happened
The floor and father hit.
Now he stands 'round all day
'Cause he can't sit.

Charles Lamb and Tobacco.

Charles Lamb, according to his own confession, was "a fierce smoker of tobacco." One day when puffing vigorously the coarsest weed from a long clay pipe in company with Dr. Parr the latter asked him how he managed to acquire this "prodigious power." "By toiling after it, as some men toil after virtue," was the prompt reply. As he advanced in years, however, "Elia" was obliged to relax his intimacy with the weed, so that, to use his own words, he was "like a burnt out volcano emitting now and then only a casual puff." Eventually he took his formal leave in a "Farewell Ode to Tobacco," and in forwarding a copy of the poem to Wordsworth he writes, "I have had it in my head to do it these two years, but tobacco stood in its own light when it gave me headaches that prevented me singing its praises."

A Capful of Wind.

The origin of the phrase, "A capful of wind," can be traced to a Norse king, Eric VI., who died in 907 A. D. He was credited with the useful power of directing the wind to blow where he wished by the simple method of turning his cap to that point of the compass. His powers were much appreciated and trusted and resulted in his being known as "windy cap." There is no evidence as to whether he could regulate the force of the wind as well as the direction. Presumably he could, or his faithful believers would not have been so many. A "bagful of wind" is another common expression and indicates something like a gale. This has been traced down to the classical legend of Aeolus and his captive winds confined in bags.

Collecting a Bill.

A claim was once placed in the hands of Judge Peters of Bangor, Me., for collection. A notice was sent to the debtor, who called and promised to pay the following Saturday. The judge said: "Now, don't say you will pay Saturday night unless you mean to. Just take a few more days and be sure. Say you will pay next Wednesday." "All right," said the man; "if I live until next Wednesday I will pay that bill." Wednesday came, but no man appeared to settle the bill, whereupon the judge wrote out a notice of the death of the man and put it in the daily paper. The next day the bill was settled.

Perfumes.

In the collection of perfumes two processes are employed. In one, the grease process, boxes with glass bottoms are prepared, the bottom being covered with pure grease or suet, and the flowers, gathered fresh every day during the season, are laid on trays in the box, the grease being left to absorb the fragrance. In the oil process the place of grease is taken by cotton batting saturated with oil, the process being substantially the same. In both cases the vehicle becomes impregnated with the essential oil and odor of flowers.

When Solid Iron Floats.

Experiments show that if a ball of solid iron is lowered into a mass of liquid iron by means of a metal fork the ball at first sinks to the bottom with the fork. But in a few seconds it leaves the prongs and rises to the surface, where it continues to float until it melts. The rising is explained by the expansion of the ball, due to heating, whereby it becomes, bulk for bulk, less dense than the molten metal.

The Law and the Sword.

In all governments there must of necessity be both the law and the sword. Laws without arms would give us not liberty, but licentiousness, and arms without laws would produce not subjection, but slavery.—Colton.

The Ways of Men.

Few doctors are willing to take their own medicine. When a lawyer gets into trouble he hastens to hire an attorney, and it is hard for people to admire an artist who paints his own portrait.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Consumption Threatened

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs

A. M. Ake, Wood, Ind., writes: "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages. I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. Officer Kepple stated that he had found her lying in the snow on Schoonmaker avenue Friday helplessly intoxicated. He invited her to the Boro Hotel but she vigorously declined, saying she would go home. After several futile attempts to get her navigating apparatus to working properly, Kepple thought it about time to lend a helping hand and with the assistance of a passing wagon finally succeeded in landing her at the above mentioned hostelry. At the hearing Saturday morning Mayor Shuster handed in a bill amounting to $7.00, failing to pay which she will have to take a vacation for 30 days. She is taking the 30 so far.

Letter to J. B. Johnson

Monessen, Pa.

Dear Sir: The cheap paint to buy is the one that covers more than you think; the cheap one to wear is the one that is young when old.

Mrs Moore, of Kelsey, N Y, bought 16 gallons Devoe to paint her house two coats; her painters said it would take that. Had 6 gallons left.

Mr James Ackley's house, in Cairo (Catskill Mountains), N Y, was painted Devoe. it wore 14 years; and the paint was in good condition then. He was going to paint, the last we knew, though That's the way to preserve a house; repaint when there's no occasion.

Yours truly

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Miners Refuse to Work.

Many of the miners employed at the Ellsworth mines are leaving as a result of the placing of electrical appliances, contrary to the advice of Inspector Loutit, who lately took such a determined stand against it. Most of the old miners knowing that gas exists in dangerous quantities, take this step as a means of protection to themselves and families.

Wants River Lights.

Representative E. F. Acheson has introduced a bill in the house asking for harbor lights along the Monongahela river, the passing of which will save thousands of dollars annually in collisions due to darkness and fog. The lighthouse board has been directed to place lights at the most dangerous points and include cost in the next estimate sent to the house.
